I would like to order PDE2D, a finite element program which solves non-linear, time-dependent, steady-state and eigenvalue partial differential equation systems, in one-dimensional intervals, general two-dimensional regions and a wide range of three-dimensional regions.

I understand that I must have one of the compatible Fortran compilers listed, in order to use this PDE2D version. The following versions are available.

1. Windows version (requires Intel Fortran v11.0). 32 and 64 bit libraries included.
2. Windows version (requires Lahey LF90 v4.5). 32 bit library only.
3. Linux version (requires gfortran v4.3 or g77 v3.3.5). 32 and 64 bit libraries included.
4. Linux x86 cluster version (requires pgf90 v6.2). 64 bit library only.
5. Solaris version (requires g77 v3.4.6 or Sun Studio Fortran 95 v8.3). 32 and 64 bit libraries included.

In addition, the Lahey LF90 compiler v4.5 is available for $150. This compiler is distributed through a VAR agreement (May 27, 1999) with Lahey Computer Systems, Inc.. This does not include manuals or some LF90 add-ons; it is intended primarily for use with PDE2D.

The (perpetual) license fees are:

Licensee agrees to take reasonable steps to ensure that no portion of the PDE2D (or LF90) code (except the PDE2D interactive driver or GUI) is transferred to any other computer system, or in any manner made available to unauthorized persons. Copyright, title and interest to PDE2D remain with Granville Sewell and with Rogue Wave, Inc., as specified in IMSL Third Party Licensing Agreement #TPA-315-91.
- 2 License Term: The term of the license agreement is perpetual.
- 3 Payment: License fees are payable in U.S.Dollars, and are due within 30 days of the delivery of the software.
- 4 Maintenance and Consulting: (PDE2D only) Licensee will be given the latest version of PDE2D available at the time of purchase, in object code form. Granville Sewell agrees to fix any bugs or installation problems found by the user within 90 days of delivery of the software, and to be reasonably available during this same period to answer questions about PDE2D usage. Licensee will not receive later versions unless purchased separately, and there is no commitment to any type of support after the 90-day maintenance period.
